

MANSLAUGHTER IS FACING MOTORIST

TERROR REIGN IS FEARED AT STRIKE MEET

Many Chances of Violence As Communists Gather In Southern Town.

GASTONIA, N. C., Sept. 14.—The ominous calm that precedes a storm hovered early today over this battlefront of the communist invasion of the new industrial south as Gastonia settled down to a period of watchful waiting until 8 p. m., when the National Textile Workers union holds a mass meeting.

An anti-communistic mob, variously estimated at from two hundred to three hundred men, already has warned three N. T. W. U. organizers never to set foot again on Gaston county soil. The three men were kidnapped from a boarding house here Monday and one of them was taken to a nearby county and severely flogged.

The Gastonia Gazette, the only newspaper in Gaston-co., has warned the left wing labor element that if they attempt to stage today's scheduled rally they will be doing so at their own risk. The authorities were frankly alarmed and dared not hazard a guess as to what the day's developments will be.

MANY WILD RUMORS

The man in the street purveyed a maze of wild rumors ranging from the report that large groups of militiamen were grouped in the nearby towns in case of need to the report that large quantities of fire arms and ammunition have been smuggled into Gastonia within the past few days.

Regardless of the rumors, the fact remained that eight communists, including two of the three kidnapped organizers, are being held in Charlotte on a charge of conspiring to bring a cache of shot guns and shells into the city for Saturday's mass meeting. Their arrest followed the discovery of seven brand new shotguns and 500 shells in their possession.

OBSERVER ON DUTY

Governor O. Max Gardner took official cognizance of the tense situation of the Gastonia situation today when he sent Judge N. A. Townsend, executive counselor, here to watch the day's developments and keep in constant telephonic communication with the executive offices in Raleigh. Judge Townsend declined to deny or confirm reports that militiamen are being held in readiness for a call here.

No extra policemen will be placed on duty today, according to Sheriff Eli Linberger. Three of the town's policemen today are in Charlotte, where, along with 11 "loyal" mill employees they are being given a preliminary hearing on charges growing out of Monday night's "reign of terror" in this section which culminated in the trio of kidnappings. The headquarters of the N. T. W. U. also were raided by the terrorists and members of the International Labor Defense were openly threatened with lynching.

HEART DISEASE CAUSES DEATH

Mrs. Catharine Mount Succumbs Friday At Her Home On Logan-St.

Mrs. Catharine Louisa Mount, 77, died Friday, Sept. 13, at 6 a. m. of heart disease at her home on Logan-st. She had been ill five days. She was born October 9, 1852 in Vinton-co., and was the daughter of William and Isabelle Chamberlain McManus.

Mrs. Mount came to Pickaway-co. in 1892, after her marriage to William Mount on March 8, 1873. She was an International Bible student.

Although Mrs. Mount is the last of her family, she is survived by five children. They are Mrs. Alpha Cummings and Perry Mount of Detroit, Mich., Alvin Mount, William Mount and Mrs. Ed McClarren of Circleville.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at the residence at 2 30 p. m. Eliza Warehime, of Hocking-co., will conduct the rites. Pall bearers have been selected from among the family.

Burial will be in the Hitler-Ludwig cemetery, in charge of M. S. Riechart.

Invitation For Five Power Meeting To Limit Navies to Go From London

Power of Labor Government
In Britain Holds Admiralty In Line.

By HARRY R. FLORY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Sept. 14.—It was understood here this afternoon that official invitations for a five-power naval limitation conference will be sent from London and that the proposed parley will be in this city.

Premier MacDonald is closely studying the admiralty's reaction to the Anglo-American discussions. Well-informed circles believe that, in view of the cabinet's favorable reception of the premier's report upon the status of negotiations, the admiralty will not attempt to press its demands "up to the hill" or make too much open opposition.

LABOR IS STRONG
As one official explained to International News Service:

"If a conservative government had been in power the admiralty never would have consented to suppression of its demands. But it feels it would be a hopeless waste of time to try to go against an apparently united labor government."

Secretary of State Stimson's announcement of an Anglo-American naval accord was unanimously hailed by the British press as an epoch-making and wonderful tribute to the success of the negotiations of President Hoover, Ambassador Davies and Premier MacDonald.

The Daily Express thus summed up the public opinion:

FIRST CLASS EVENT
"It is a first class event in world history. It exceeds all post-war developments. Premier MacDonald and President Hoover must rightfully be awarded the credit for the achievement and auspicious political event of the past 100 years."

It was stated at the premier's office that Mr. MacDonald had decided not to issue a statement today, but the premier is described as being most pleased over the information from Washington regarding a general conference.

Members of the cabinet likewise were favorably impressed by the latest developments at home and abroad.

MILK IS DRIED IN PLANT HERE

Interesting Industry Is Conducted In City By Pickaway Dairy Co.

Among the industries now being carried on in Circleville that few people know about is the "drying or powdering" of milk at the Pickaway Dairy plant. A walk through the plant is intensely interesting.

According to employees at the plant, an average of 6000 pounds of milk are dried every day there. The dry milk is then shipped to all parts of Ohio and nearby states.

The process of manufacturing is more or less simple. Butter milk and skim milk are the only kind of milks that are dried. Formerly these by-products were largely wasted, as the only market were locally for chickens or swine and a large amount were daily sent down the sewer.

The milk is first placed in large vats and boiled to a very high goes to the dry milk machine in degree of temperature. It then which two cylinders under steam pressure revolve constantly, evaporating the water from the milk and the residue comes off the cylinder in very thin sheets, which then crumble and go through a flaker which reduces it to a very fine powder.

According to employees, this food is used generally for chickens.

PURCHASE CALVES

Charles W. Imke, E. Main-st. Charles Bolender, E. Franklin-st. and William Jacobs of Hallsville, were each delivered a load of choice Oklahoma white face calves by Floyd Dunlap, local cattle buyer.

INFANT CHILD DIES

Evelyn Wallace, 1-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wallace, near Mr. Sterling, died Friday at the parents' home. Funeral services were held at 2 30 p. m. Saturday from the residence. Burial was in Greenland cemetery.

GANG GUNS OF GOTHAM CHASE THEIR VICTIMS

Two Sensational Shootings Increase New York Casualties To Six.

By International News Service

The pungent smoke of New York's gangland guns spread throughout the United States today, as in widely separated cities of the country victims went down under a leaden spray at the hands of Gotham gunmen.

Two sensational shootings in particular rocked the nation. International News Service dispatches from Boston told of the shooting to death of Samuel Rheinwein, well-to-do New York furrier, in a Boston hotel A La Arnold Rothstein.

His head riddled with bullets, Rheinwein's body was found in a hotel corridor outside his room. He is believed to have been followed to Boston by New York gunmen or racketeers.

SHOT AT CLEVELAND

At the same time Daniel, described as a nephew of a well-known New York political leader, was in a critical condition at a Cleveland, Ohio, hospital, suffering from effects of four bullet wounds inflicted on a Cleveland street corner. New York gangs are believed to have been involved.

These two shootings, which brought the total of New York victims to six within the last week, followed on the heels of a statement by New York Police Commissioner Whelan that gangs had been eradicated in New York.

James (Bugs) Donovan was shot in New Jersey by a gang of New York beer racketeers. James Batto was murdered in a slot machine racket war on Fifth Avenue, and soon after James Ahern, ex-convict, was found shot to death in an abandoned automobile. The other victim was Genaro Irazzetti, shot by gangsters in Brooklyn.

INJURED AT WORK ON SCHOOL HOUSE

Gerald Taylor, 23, of New Holland, is recovering from serious injuries suffered when he was caught under a slab of slate, being erected for a blackboard, and his hip was dislocated. He is the son of Contractor Charles W. Taylor, who is building the new school building at New Holland.

After receiving medical attention at New Holland, he was taken to Grant hospital, Columbus, in the Kirkpatrick ambulance, where X-rays of the dislocation were made.

According to reports Saturday, Mr. Taylor is getting along nicely and will be removed to his home in Zanesville within the next few days.

DRILL IS STOLEN

Emanuel Dresbach reported to police headquarters Saturday morning that a thief had stolen a wheat drill from the barn belonging to Floyd Dunlap, on W. Main-st.

Gets Drunk To Celebrate His Missing Death

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Sept. 14.—(INS).—Because of his good luck in laying off for the first time this season, Heisman Joe Collins, 32, of the ill-fated Andaste, told friends he was going to celebrate, it was learned today.

The luck changed Friday, the 13th and Grand Haven police picked him up for intoxication. He pleaded guilty before Justice of Peace C. E. Burr and was fined $25 or 15 days. He went to jail because his personal effects including money, were aboard ship, he said.

Collins had been on an inland trip visiting friends and hurried back to Grand Haven Sunday but was so tired he changed his mind the last minute and decided to lay off a few days and rejoin the crew in Chicago.

WRECKAGE OF SHIP IS FOUND

Lake Michigan Being Searched For Possible Survivors of Tragedy.

HOLLAND, Mich., Sept. 14.—Searching craft today combed the wreckage-strewn waters of Lake Michigan near here for bodies of the crew of the steamer Andaste, which went to the bottom early Tuesday with 25 men aboard.

A water tank, a wooden door of Capt. Albert Anderson's cabin and other fragments of the vessel were picked up by Captain George Van Hall, master of the fishing tug Bertha G. yesterday afternoon and were identified.

A score of ships gathered at the place where the wreckage was found.

The Andaste, a 2,200 ton whale-back carrying 1,900 tons of gravel, is believed to have foundered before daylight Tuesday morning after it had set out from Grand Haven, Mich., for Chicago. Meteorological records show that a terrific blast of wind and rain swept her course during these hours.

TWO ARE KILLED AS ENGINES CRASH

ANDOVER, Mass., Sept. 14.—A head-on collision between a 95-car freight train and two locomotives running light on the Boston and Maine line about a mile north of here today, instantly killed two men and caused serious injury to three others.

The two locomotives were thrown off the tracks. The locomotive of the freight train was crushed and also left the rails.

ARM FRACTURED

Miss Catherine Snyder of North Court St. while visiting her sister, Mrs. Jennie Tipton, of Williamsport Friday afternoon, slipped and fell on the sidewalk suffering a fractured arm. Dr. D. V. Courtwright X-rayed and dressed the injury.

End of Contest is Near

Sunday, at midnight, the "Who's The Dealer" Contest comes to a close. The past four weeks the readers of The Herald have been closely following the questions that were asked. None of them were hard but the contest did give the readers an opportunity to get better acquainted with nationally advertised products, and while doing so compete in the prize money. There is still time to get that complete set of answers in, for all answers mailed before midnight Sunday will be accepted. Contestants must remember to write better, which must be with the four announcement sheets for a complete answer. Judges will start in on the questions Monday and as soon as their work is completed the winners will be announced.

Starting Monday each of the dealers who participated in the contest will have an ad on the product they advertised. Start in Monday and read every ad in The Herald for ad will carry correct answers to the questions.

Expected Accounting By Cooper of His Stewardship Fails to Appear

State Waiting For First Report Promised By "Business Administration."

By ELMER P. FRIES

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14.—Inquiry made this week failed to discover a date on which the state administration may be expected to make public the promised accounting to the people of the first six months of its stewardship. In this, the ninth month of their regime, the stewards were still reported as stewing the figures and being in somewhat of a figurative stew concerning what they will show.

Governor Myers Y. Cooper, who was reminded a few weeks ago that the reckoning for the enlightenment of taxpayers was even then long overdue, has made no public explanation of the delay. It was recalled that he had said earlier: "I believe the people are as much entitled to financial reports from their government as stockholders of a corporation and we shall endeavor to make them at least every six months."

Friends who applauded him in two campaigns in which "A business man's administration with economy in respect to spending the taxpayer's money" was the shibboleth are not impatient. They predict the accounting will reveal the genial governor in a new role—a veritable Santa Claus without whiskers.

Then there are those petulant persons in his own party who complain that any good news of savings that must naturally cheer the thrifty taxpayer on farm and in city should not be withheld longer.

One such apparently is James Begg, former congressman and Republican gubernatorial aspirant last year. The Hon. Jim, according to an up-state newspaper chronicler made spending the other day at Bellaire and near Jerusalem—in Ohio—not Palestine—razing his one time primary opponent.

The newspaper historian, writing in the St. Clairsville Gazette reports that Mr. Begg was severe in his criticism of Governor Cooper's promise to give the people an accounting every six months and said he had now been in office eight months but the reports for the first six months had not been given out.

The same writer goes on to say that two talks sent cold chills up the backs of the Cooper men in this county. The Begg speeches and the Sunday visit of Governor Cooper to this county caused his second term stock to take a big drop.

Although it is rumored Mr. Begg plans to enter the primary against Dr. Cooper next year, the Governor's friends laughed that, one off. They said the governor had remarked that one morning's mail recently did not contain a single reference to him as a "one-term governor." And they suggested Mr. Begg will be so chagrined that he will duck his head into Lake Erie three times and draw it out only twice when the six-months accounting of economies finally emerges from the stew pot.

BANKER FINDS BONDS SCARCE

Rural Financier Who Obtained $500,000 In Swindle Seeks Freedom.

NEWCASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 14.—(INS).—Charles Delos Waggoner, the "seedy little Colorado banker," who bilked six New York banking institutions out of $500,000 through a series of fake code telegrams, encountered much greater difficulty today in arranging for a $100,000 bond than he did building up the half million dollar credit.

Waggoner was busy in the local jail until late last night making telephone and telegraph requests to friends and relatives in nearby states in his quest for the bail money. His wife aided him, but neither would say today whether they were successful. The heavy bond was recommended by United States District Attorney A. D. Walton of Cheyenne.

Waggoner will probably be given an opportunity to produce the bond today when Federal Marshal Earl School arrives here from Cheyenne with the warrant for the banker's formal arrest.

It is expected Waggoner will be taken to Cheyenne to await formal arrest.

Waggoner declared today that the two girls who aided him in sending the fake telegrams from Denver to New York banks which established the half million dollar credit for him, were "entirely innocent of any wrong doing."

"They were just dupes," he said, "and knew nothing about the contents or significance of the messages."

SOLT HILL IS FATAL MISHAP SCENE FRIDAY

Columbus Man Dies of Broken Neck In Auto Accident—Relative Held.

James McCarty, 66, of 168 W. Ninth-ave., Columbus, is dead and his brother-in-law, Robert Shoemaker, 64, of Columbus, Station D, Route 1, is in the Pickaway-co jail charged with manslaughter as the result of an automobile accident at 8 p. m. Friday on Solt Hill, a mile north of Ringgold on the Turkey Run road.

McCarty was instantly killed when the Ford sedan in which he was riding and which was driven by Shoemaker, skidded on fresh gravel and overturned twice on the steep slope of Solt Hill. The two men were enroute to Columbus from a farm near the Boy's Industrial School, Lancaster.

A broken neck caused the death of McCarty, who also received face and scalp wounds. Shoemaker suffered a cut over his nose, one on his right ear and one on his thigh in addition to severe bruises.

Martin Faumough, of near Walnut postoffice, was the first to reach the scene of the wreck. Coroner C. E. Bowers and Deputy Sheriff John Ward, Jr., were summoned by C. E. Brown who lives nearby.

Coroner Bowers ordered Shoemaker, who is alleged to have been intoxicated, arrested and called Prosecutor Emmitt L. Crist to the scene. Three plants of whiskey were found near the wrecked car, which was demolished.

Shoemaker was taken to the office of Dr. G. R. Gardner, Ashville, where his injuries were dressed and was then escorted to the Pickaway-co jail. The manslaughter charge was filed against him Saturday by Prosecutor Crist.

The body of McCarty, an employee of the American Express Co., was taken to the undertaking parlors of E. C. Schlegel, Ashville, and was later removed to a Columbus mortuary.

The dead man is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alma McCarty, a daughter, Miss Mary McCarty and a married daughter in Cleveland.

"ACT OF GOD" STATE RULES

Lightning As Cause For Compensation In Farmer's Death Rejected.

Latham Greer, while working on the Willard Story farm last June 7 in Fayette-co., was struck by lightning and killed. At first, it was reported that, since Mr. Story carried industrial insurance, the Greer family would receive compensation from the Industrial Commission. Mr. Story, owner of the farm, is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Howard, of Circleville.

However, after the claim was filed, the commission reported that being struck by lightning was an act of God and not an accident due to the hazards of his employment. The ruling was a complete surprise and disappointment to Mr. Story and the dependant claimants, although Mr. Story received an intimation some time ago, that such a ruling might be made, and at that time he went before the commission and urged payment of ing was part of the hazard workers on farms undertook. "In the course of their employment" and that farmers and farm workers, wherever they were, were exposed to the state insurance, which they are compelled to take out, covered that risk.

Arguments it seems were in vain because the claim was formally rejected. Mr. Story asserts too that the members of the commission with whom he talked frankly admitted that there were some cases where death was occasioned by lightning that were allowed and paid.

Present indications are that the claimants of Mr. Greer will bring court proceedings against the Industrial Commission in an effort to compel payment of the claim.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tice, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilder of W. Union-st. have returned to their home in Myerstown, Penn.

GASTONIA, N. C., Sept. 14.—The ominous calm that precedes a storm hovered early today over this battlefront of the communist invasion of the new industrial south as Gastonia settled down to a period of watchful waiting until 8 p. m., when the National Textile Workers union holds a mass meeting.

An anti-communistic mob, variously estimated at from two hundred to three hundred men, already has warned three N. T. W. U. organizers never to set foot again on Gaston county soil. The three men were kidnapped from a boarding house here Monday and one of them was taken to a nearby county and severely flogged.

The Gastonia Gazette, the only newspaper in Gaston-co, has warned the left wing labor element that if they attempt to stage today's scheduled rally they will be doing so at their own risk. The authorities were frankly alarmed and dared not hazard a guess as to what the day's developments will be.

MANY WILD RUMORS

The man in the street purveyed a maze of wild rumors ranging from the report that large groups of militiamen were grouped in the nearby towns in case of need to the report that large quantities of fire arms and ammunition have been smuggled into Gastonia within the past few days.

Regardless of the rumors, the fact remained that eight communists, including two of the three kidnapped organizers, are being held in Charlotte on a charge of conspiring to bring a cache of shot-guns and shells into the city for Saturday's mass meeting. Their arrest followed the discovery of seven brand new shot-guns and 500 shells in their possession.

OBSERVER ON DUTY

Governor O. Max Gardner took official cognizance of the tenseness of the Gastonia situation today when he sent Judge N. A. Townsend, executive counselor, here to watch the day's developments and keep in constant telephonic communication with the executive offices in Raleigh. Judge Townsend declined to deny or confirm reports that militiamen are being held in readiness for a call here.

No extra policemen will be placed on duty today, according to Sheriff Eli Lineberger. Three of the town's policemen today are in Charlotte, where, along with 11 "loyal" mill employees they are being given a preliminary hearing on charges growing out of Monday night's "reign of terror" in this section which culminated in the trio of kidnappings. The headquarters of the N. T. W. U. also were raided by the territorialists and members of the International Labor Defense were openly threatened with lynching.

Invitation For Five Power Meeting To Limit Navies to Go From London

Power of Labor Government
In Britain Holds Admiralty In Line.

By HARRY R. FLORY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, Sept. 14.—It was understood here this afternoon that official invitations for a five-power naval limitation conference will be sent from London and that the proposed parley will be in this city.

Premier MacDonald is closely studying the admiralty's reaction to the Anglo-American discussions. Well-informed circles believe that, in view of the cabinet's favorable reception of the premier's report upon the status of negotiations, the admiralty will not attempt to press its demands "up to the hilt" or make too much open opposition.

One such apparently is James Begg, former congressman and Republican gubernatorial aspirant last year. The Hon. Jim, according to an up-state newspaper chronicler made spending the other day at Bellaire and near Jerusalem—in Ohio—not Palestine—razzing his one time primary opponent.

The newspaper historian, writing in the St. Clairsville Gazette reports that Mr. Begg "was severe in his criticism of Governor Cooper's promise to give the people an accounting every six months and said he had now been in office eight months but the reports for the first six months had not been given out."

The same writer set forth that "Begg has a large following in the Ohio Republican ranks and his two talks sent cold chills up the backs of the Cooper men in this county. The Begg speeches and the Sunday visit of Governor Cooper to this county caused his second term stock to take a big drop."

Although it is rumored Mr. Begg plans to enter the primary against Dr. Cooper next year, the Governor's friends laughed that one off. They said the governor had remarked that one morning's mail recently did not contain a single reference to him as a "one-term governor." And they suggested Mr. Begg will be so charged that he will duck his head into Lake Erie three times and draw it out only twice when the six-months accounting of economies finally emerges from the stew pot.

BANKER FINDS BONDS SCARCE

Rural Financier Who Obtained
$500,000 In Swindle
Seeks Freedom.

NEWCASTLE, Wyo., Sept. 14.—(INS.)—Charles Delos Waggoner, the "seedy little Colorado banker," who bilked six New York banking institutions out of $500,000 through a series of fake code telegrams, encountered much greater difficulty today in arranging for a $100,000 bond than he did building up the half million dollar credit.

Waggoner was busy in the local jail until late last night making telephone and telegraph requests to friends and relatives in nearby states in his quest for the bail money. His wife aided him, but neither would say today whether they were successful. The heavy bond was recommended by United States District Attorney A. D. Walton of Cheyenne.

Waggoner will probably be given an opportunity to produce the bond today when Federal Marshal Earl Schoel arrives here from Cheyenne with the warrant for the banker's formal arrest.

It is expected Waggoner will be taken to Cheyenne to await re-arrest.

Waggoner declared today that the two girls who aided him in sending the fake telegrams from Denver to New York banks which established the half million dollar credit for him, were "entirely innocent of any wrong doing."

"They were just dupes," he said, "and knew nothing about the contents or significance of the messages."

SOLT HILL IS FATAL MISHAP SCENE FRIDAY

Columbus Man Dies of Broken Neck In Auto Accident—
Relative Held.

James McCarty, 66, of 166 W. Ninth-ave, Columbus, is dead and his brother-in-law, Robert Shoemaker, 64, of Columbus, Station D, Route 1, is in the Pickaway-co jail charged with manslaughter as the result of an automobile accident at 8 p. m. Friday on Solt Hill, a mile north of Ringgold on the Turkey Run road.

McCarty was instantly killed when the Ford sedan in which he was riding and which was driven by Shoemaker, skidded on fresh gravel and overturned twice on the steep slope of Solt Hill. The two men were enroute to Columbus from a farm near the Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster.

A broken neck caused the death of McCarty, who also received face and scalp wounds. Shoemaker suffered a cut over his nose, one on his right ear and one on his thigh in addition to severe bruises.

Martin Fausnaugh, of near Walnut postoffice, was the first to reach the scene of the wreck. Coroner C. E. Bowers and Deputy Sheriff John Ward, Jr., were summoned by C. E. Brown who lives nearby.

Coroner Bowers ordered Shoemaker, who is alleged to have been intoxicated, arrested and called Prosecutor Emmitt L. Crist to the scene. Three pints of whiskey were found near the wrecked car, which was demolished.

Shoemaker was taken to the office of Dr. G. R. Gardner, Ashville, where his injuries were dressed and was then escorted to the Pickaway-co jail. The manslaughter charge was filed against him Saturday by Prosecutor Crist.

The body of McCarty, an employee of the American Express Co., was taken to the undertaking parlors of E. C. Schlegel, Ashville, and was later removed to a Columbus mortuary.

The dead man is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alma McCarty, a daughter, Miss Mary McCarty and a married daughter in Cleveland.

"ACT OF GOD" STATE RULES

Lightning As Cause For Compensation In Farmer's Death Rejected.

Latham Greer, while working on the Willard Store farm last June 7 in Fayette-co, was struck by lightning and killed. At first, it was reported that, since Mr. Greer carried industrial insurance, the Greer family would receive compensation from the Industrial Commission. Mr. Story, owner of the farm, is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Howard, of Circleville.

However, after the claim was filed, the commission reported that being struck by lightning was an act of God and not an accident due to the hazards of his employment.

The ruling was a complete surprise and disappointment to Mr. Story and the dependant claimants, although Mr. Story received an intimation some time ago, that such a ruling might be made, and at that time he went before the commission and urged payment of ing was part of the hazard of working on farms undertook, "In the course of their employment" and that farmers and farm workers, wherever they were and supposed the state insurance, which they are compelled to take out, covered that risk.

Arguments it seems were in vain because the claim was formally rejected. Mr. Story asserts too that the members of the commission with whom he talked frankly admitted that there were some cases where death was occasioned by lightning that were allowed and paid.

Present indications are that the claimants of Mr. Greer will bring court proceedings against the Industrial Commission in an effort to compel payment of the claim.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tice, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilder of W. Union-st, have returned to their home in Myerstown, Penn.

Creamed Comments On S.S. Lesson

Teaching the Law of God, Nehemiah 8:1-12 for Sunday, Sept. 16th.

The occasion for the people coming together was for the celebration of the Feast of Trumpets, marking the "New Year Day" of the civil year. Ezra, dejected and discouraged had been in retirement 12 years but now emerged with a zeal for the book of the law, instructing the people who having completed the rebuilding of the temple, were ready to listen, attentively to God's interpreter, Ezra, a priest as well as a scribe.

V. 1.—"And all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the broad place that was before the water gate; and they spake to Ezra, the scribe, to bring the book of the law of Moses, which Jehovah had commanded to Israel." The people were hungry for the word, having discovered their religious needs. They had reverence for the book, for even then it was looked upon as God's revelation to man.

Vs. 2, 3.—"And Ezra, the priest brought the law before the assembly both men and women and all that could hear of the assembly; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law."

law." The people did their part in giving close attention. Not only ought prayer be offered for the preacher but also for the people that they hear well.

V. 6.—"And Ezra blessed Jehovah the great God; and all the people answered, amen, amen, with the lifting up of their hands; and they bowed their heads and worshipped Jehovah with their faces to the ground." Participation in a religious service by the people adds much in making a public service of worship helpful. The right attitude and spirit of the worshippers is essential.

V. 8.—"And they read in the book, in the law of God, distinctly; and they gave the sense so that they understood the reading." Ezra trained helpers who in turn became Bible teachers whose duty it was to make plain and clear the teachings of the law of God, each one to speak, "distinctly." The key to a successful church is good Bible teachers in all the programs of religious education.

V. 9.—"And Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra, the priest and scribe; and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people: 'This day is holy unto Jehovah your God; mourn not, nor weep.' For all the people wept when they heard the words of the law." The people, many of whom were brought in contact for the first time with the pure and holy standards of God's law, were filled with an awe sense of their sinfulness and burst forth in weeping, which could not be restrained.

Vs. 10, 11.—"Then he said unto them, go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet and send portions to him for whom nothing is prepared for this day is holy unto our Lord; neither be ye grieved for the joy of Jehovah is your strength." A practical Christian program calls for the consideration of the poor and oppressed who are to share with the highly privileged class the blessings of God.

V. 12.—"And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions and to make great mirth, because they understood the words that were declared unto them." The better we understand the Bible the more joy and comfort is ours.

THE LEGEND OF ST. CHRISTOPHER

There was once a mighty man living in the land of Canaan, whose name was Offero meaning, the Bearer. Offero was proud of his strength and said he would serve none but the greatest king on earth.
By chance, Offero one day heard a minstrel singing to his king and noticed that whenever the name of Satan was mentioned, the king trembled. When questioned by Offero as to the cause of his trembling, the king said, "I fear Satan. He is as wicked as he is strong."

Offero left the service of the king immediately and went in search of Satan, whom the king feared. He finally found Satan leading a host across a desert. He joined Satan's followers and all went well until they came to a cross roads where stood a cross. When Satan saw this cross, he turned and fled, saying, "I fear the cross because upon it Christ hung and I fly from it lest he destroy me."

Then Offero left Satan and went in search of Christ. After many days he came upon a holy man who said Christ would be pleased if Offero used his strength to help the weak and helpless cross the mighty, raging torrent nearby. This Offero did, day after day, until one day Christ came disguised as a little child. After Christ had been carried across on Offero's shoulders, he said, "Thou didst wish to serve me and I have chosen thee as my servant. Thou hast borne the king of the whole world on thy shoulders." So Christopher meaning "Christ-Bearer" received his naming because he had borne the Christ.

Rev. H. Keene, Pastor.

Services at 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

We regret very much because we could not conduct our camp meeting services at the grove owing to the condition of the weather. Notwithstanding we held services at the church. We are now carrying on a revival for a few days at the church. The preaching will be in charge of Rev. Harry Jenkins of Birmingham, Ala., and Sister Bray, the great Gospel jubilee singer. Come and hear these messengers of the Lord.

law." The people did their part in giving close attention. Not only ought prayer be offered for the preacher but also for the people that they hear well.

V. 6.—"And Ezra blessed Jehovah the great God; and all the people answered, amen, amen, with the lifting up of their hands; and they bowed their heads and worshipped Jehovah with their faces to the ground." Participation in a religious service by the people adds much in making a public service of worship helpful. The right attitude and spirit of the worshippers is essential.

V. 8.—"And they read in the book, in the law of God, distinctly; and they gave the sense so that they understood the reading." Ezra trained helpers who in turn became Bible teachers whose duty it was to make plain and clear the teachings of the law of God, each one to speak, "distinctly." The key to a successful church is good Bible teachers in all the programs of religious education.

V. 9.—"And Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra, the priest and scribe, and the Levites that taught the people, said unto all the people, This day is holy unto Jehovah your God; mourn not, nor weep. For all the people wept when they heard the words of the law." The people, many of whom were brought in contact for the first time with the pure and holy standards of God's law, were filled with an awed sense of their sinfulness and burst forth in weeping, which could not be restrained.

Vs. 10, 11.—"Then he said unto them, go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet and send portions to him for whom nothing is prepared for this day is holy unto our Lord; neither be ye grieved for the joy of Jehovah is your strength." A practical Christian program calls for the consideration of the poor and oppressed who are to share with the highly privileged class the blessings of God.

V. 12.—"And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send portions and to make great mirth, because they understood the words that were declared unto them." The better we understand the Bible the more joy and comfort is ours.

Throw overboard the superficial and fill the hold with the indispensable.

Religion should not be a mere device for getting into heaven but a vehicle for making a journey here below.

Blessings multiply and increase by distribution; if hoarded they are soon lost.

THE LEGEND OF ST. CHRISTOPHER

There was once a mighty man living in the land of Canaan whose name was Offero meaning, the Bearer. Offero was proud of his strength and said he would serve none but the greatest king on earth.

By chance, Offero one day heard a minstrel singing to his king and noticed that whenever the name of Satan was mentioned, the king trembled. When questioned by Offero as to the cause of his trembling, the king said, "I fear Satan. He is as wicked as he is strong."

Offero left the service of the king immediately and went in search of Satan, whom the king feared. He finally found Satan leading a host across a desert. He joined Satan's followers and all went well until they came to a cross road where stood a cross. When Satan saw this cross, he turned and fled, saying, "I fear the cross because upon it Christ hung and I fly from it lest he destroy me."

Then Offero left Satan and went in search of Christ. After many days he came upon a holy man who said Christ would be pleased if Offero used his strength to help the weak and helpless cross the mighty raging torrent nearby. This Offero did, day after day, until one day Christ came disguised as a little child. After Christ had been carried across on Offero's shoulders, he said, "Thou didst wish to serve me and I have chosen thee as my servant. Thou hast borne the king of the whole world on thy shoulders." So Christopher meaning "Christ-Bearer" received his naming because he had borne the Christ.

Met Opens Sunday With "Cocoanuts"

Met St Theater Installs High Priced Talkie Equipment and Shows Famous Musical Comedy, Starring Marx Brothers, For First Feature—House Is Remodeled.

Circleville's newest all-talking picture house, the Metropolitan theater on W. Main-st., will be fittingly opened Sunday with that greatest of all talking and singing pictures, "The Cocoanuts," featuring the world's funniest men, The Marx Brothers.

The opening Sunday of the remodelled Metropolitan theater was announced Saturday by Manager Hatcher who has had a force of men working day and night, rushing the remodeling work and installing the Photophone talking device and perforated screen. The talking device and perforated screen are the only ones of their kind in Circleville. The talkie equipment is the same as that in the Broad theater in Columbus and the Majestic theater in Chillicothe.

Satisfied that the Photophone will give the best reproduction, Manager Hatcher did not hesitate to book "The Cocoanuts," the most surprising entertainment to be offered in Circleville and a show that had a two weeks' run to capacity houses in Columbus.

When "The Cocoanuts" opens at the Met theater Sunday for seven days, a real Broadway musical comedy will be available to everybody. On the talking screen, "The Cocoanuts" is the same show that thrilled New York on the stage for one long year at $6.60 a seat. It is all-talking, all-singing, all-dancing, all-laughing. It is the first success in attempt to bring the methods of musical comedy to the screen at popular prices.

No trip to New York is complete without a Marx Brothers' show. Last season it was "Animal Crackers." The season before it was "The Cocoanuts." Now "The Cocoanuts" is coming here with the wise-cracking Marx Brothers cracking their famous cracks and Oscar Shaw and Mary Eaton, both famous as Ziegfeld Follies stars, singing and making love in the romantic leads.

The chorus work, especially interesting because of the unique camera angles from which it is shot, is beautifully performed by groups of Gamby-Hale and Allen K. Foster girls. A strong supporting cast includes Katherine Francis, Margaret Dumont, Cyril Ring, Basil Ruysdael and Sylvan Lee.

Irving Berlin, who wrote the music for the original show, added a special new theme song, "When My Dreams Come True," for the screen presentation and two exceptionally fine orchestras accompany the singing and dancing.

GENE, FORD, GLENN ON CLIFTONA BILL

The great trio of radio artists will give their bow to Circleville audiences Sunday, September 15. It is said no combination or attraction has so caught the fancy of radio listeners everywhere as Gene, Ford and Glenn. Gene seems to be an ideal acquisition to the popular radio and record team of Ford and Glenn. They offer an act that is full of pep and a lot of variety. They have appeared in several representative Ohio cities in the past two weeks with phenomenal success; taking the house record for attendance in each instance.

The Crosley Radio Station WLW in Cincinnati reports that this feature is taking all records for fan mail and taking into consideration the arm weather and its effect upon radio reception this is quite an accomplishment for a radio attraction. They will present their first performance at the Cliftona Sunday afternoon and continue throughout the day, doing as many shows as the attendance warrants. A rare treat is in store for Circleville radio and theatre patrons.

PERSONALS

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Ruhiman and daughter, Dondus, were visitors in Columbus Saturday. Another daughter, Miss Irene Ruhiman, a teacher in the Columbus public schools returned home with them for over Sunday.

Miss Sally Lynch is recovering from an attack of grippe at her residence on E. Main-st.

Mrs. M. S. Rinehart was a business visitor in Columbus Friday.

Mrs. N. W. Elder of Van West, O. is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dinmore of E. High-st.

Donald Watt of the Circleville Motors Co. was a business visitor in Cincinnati on Friday.

Remick Caldwell will start Monday by machine for Ithaca, New York where he will enter Cornell University.

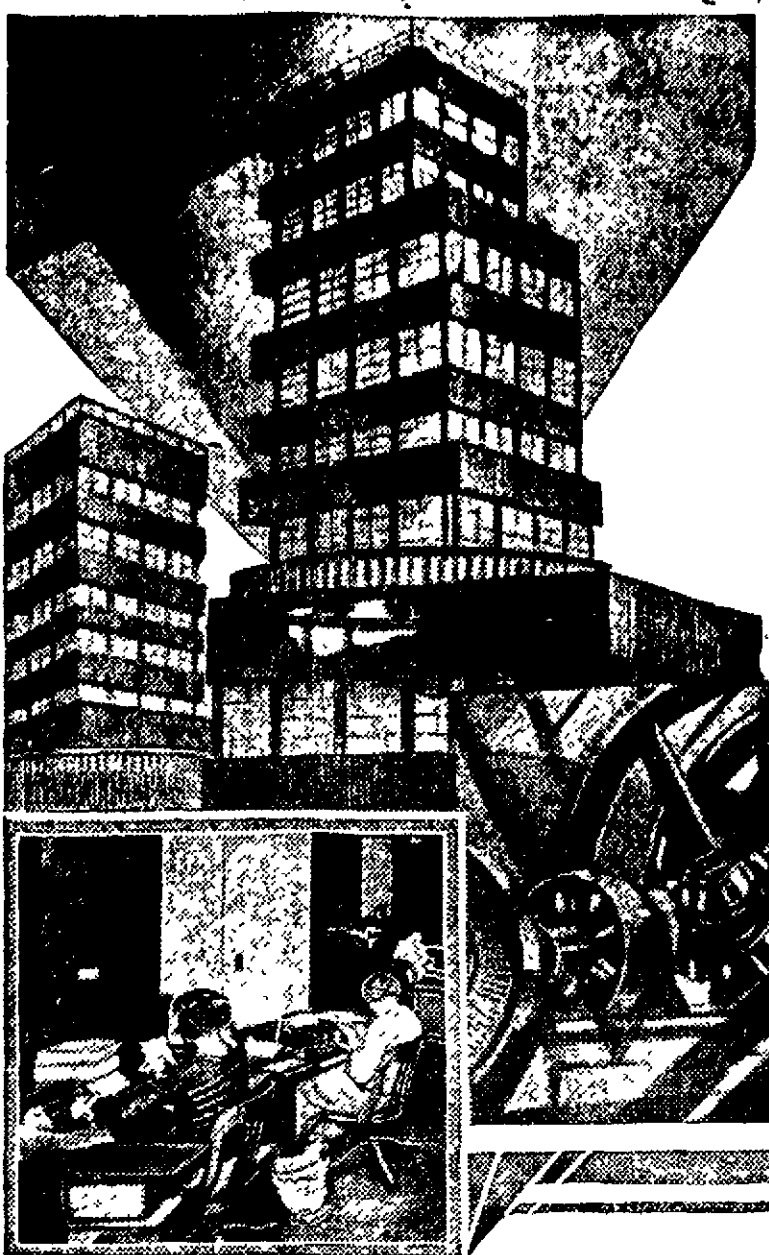

Not Expected to Know

A class of small boys at Sunday school was being queried on the lesson, but none appeared to know his lesson.

"Perhaps this new little member of our class can tell us who it was that led the children of Israel across the Red sea?" the teacher said.

"Oh, teacher, he's just moved into our neighborhood last week and you couldn't expect him to know," volunteered one lad.

Something New Under the Sun

AN OFFICE BUILDING designed to admit the maximum amount of sunlight and which can be turned on its foundation at intervals throughout the day so that workers on all sides can have their full share. The building was conceived by W. K. Oltar-Jevsky, prominent New York architect. At lower right is shown the machinery for turning the building, and on the lower left are seen girl stenographers in New York working in an office in mid-day under electric lights while the sun is shining brightly outside. Scientists are also conquering the threat of "sun starvation." Dr. Harry Steenbock's process of irradiating foods has enabled modern society to store up the health value of the sun. Irradiated yeast, for example, is rich in Vitamin D—the "sunshine vitamin"—having, it is estimated, far more than cod liver oil.

ital are pointing out that there will be dynamite and I. N. T. to be handled with care if Mr. Beetham kisses himself out of the picture. But Mr. Beetham has denied that he is peeved and says he has not decided to emulate that other enforcer, Mabel Walker Vilebrandt, who packed up her toys and refused to play when she was not rewarded.

WILL STAGE PLAY

Officials of the local American Legion announced Saturday, that they will stage a home talent musical comedy entitled "Yoo Hoo." The ideal chapter has contracted with the Irving-Plain Production Co. to stage the play. According to officials, the show will be staged the latter part of January.

Authentic Giants

Ella Ewing, known as the Missouri giantess, was born in Scotland county, Missouri, of normal parents, and at birth weighed 6 1/2 pounds. She grew abnormally between the ages of eight and twenty-two years until she reached the enormous height of 8 feet 4 inches. She wore a number 24 shoe. It took 30 yards of silk to make a dress for her. When she stepped at hotels two ordinary beds had to be placed side by side so she could sleep across them. She made a fortune traveling about on exhibition and died at the age of forty years.

Animals Long Extinct

Among the mammals that once roamed over California were the western camel, the Imperial mammoth, the mastodon, a three-toed horse and saber-toothed tiger.

MISS SHEARER SCORES AGAIN

Popular Star Comes To Cliftona Sunday In "The Last of Mrs. Cheney."

"The Last of Mrs. Cheney," an all talking picture in which Norma Shearer is starred by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is a distinctively British product having made its debut from the London stage nearly five years ago.

Frederick Lonsdale wrote the original stage play from which the film, coming Sunday to the Cliftona Theater, was adapted by Hans Kraly and Claudine West and directed by Sidney Franklin.

In the original London presentation, Gladys Cooper appeared in the title role. She was followed in this part by Ina Claire, who first portrayed the glittering society adventuress on the American stage, creating the characterization in the New York production.

Since that time the play has been seen in virtually every British province as well as every American state, having been grouped into road companies and shock groups.

Barry Rathbone and George Barrard, distinguished British-American stage stars, head the elaborate supporting cast which includes Herbert Bunston, Cyril Cusack, George K. Arthur, Hedda Hopper, Moon Carroll, Maude Turner and Madeline Seymour.

"NO DEFENSE" Monte Blue and May McAvoy will be starred at the Grand theater Sunday and Monday in "No Defense," a vivid and drenching love drama built around the construction of a great railroad bridge in a western state. Monte Blue has his greatest role, that of a hard-boiled foreman of a railroad construction gang in this all-talking picture. Vitaphone Movietone acts are also scheduled.

Miss Vivian Hudnell, a nurse at Grant hospital, Columbus, Ohio, came home and is caring for her father, A. B. Hudnell, who is ill.

MISS SHEARER SCORES AGAIN

Popular Star Comes To Cliftona Sunday In "The Last of Mrs. Cheney."

"The Last of Mrs. Cheney," an all talking picture in which Norma Shearer is starred by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is a distinctively British product, having made its debut from the London stage nearly five years ago.

Frederick Lonsdale wrote the original stage play from which the film, coming Sunday to the Cliftona Theater, was adapted by Hans Kraly and Claudine West and directed by Sidney Franklin.

In the original London presentation, Gladys Cooper appeared in the title role. She was followed in this part by Ina Claire, who first portrayed the glittering society adventuress on the American stage, creating the characterization in the New York production.

Since that time the play has been seen in virtually every British province as well as every American state, having been grouped into road companies and stock groups.

Basil Rathbone and George Barrard, distinguished British-American stage stars, head the elaborate supporting cast which includes Herbert Bunston, Cyril Chauwick, George K. Arthur, Hedda L. Upper, Moon Carroll, Maude Turner and Madeline Seymour.

"NO DEFENSE"

Monte Blue and May McAvoy will be starred at the Grand theater Sunday and Monday in "No Defense," a vivid and enthralling love drama built around the construction of a great railroad bridge in a western state. Monte Blue has his greatest role, that of a hard-boiled foreman of a railroad construction gang in this all-talking picture. Vitaphone and Movietone acts are also on the bill.

Miss Vivian Hudnell, a nurse at Grant hospital, Columbus, has come home and is caring for her father, A. B. Hudnell, who is ill.

THE MARX BROS.

THE COCOANUTS

OSCAR SHAW = MARY EATON

Screamingly funny! Happily hilarious! The Marxmen do their gay, bizarre fooling on the talking screen! In this first film musical comedy! With Ziegfeld's scintillating stars, Oscar Shaw and Mary Eaton! Singing Irving Berlin's lovely melody, "When My Dreams Come True!" Dancing choruses of bewitching girls! In giddy whirls of unexcelled beauty. New York critics hailed "The Cocoanuts" as "a talkie-single which will keep you in uproarious laughter," "a typical musical comedy, boasting a trained chorus, beautiful costuming, luscious-looking girls and elaborate settings!" Hear Berlin's thrilling music! See the captivating, lulling "Monkey Doodle Dance." Hear and see the inimitable fooling of the world's four funniest men.

3 SISTERS ROUSE ENVY OF CALIFORNIA FARMERS
Violet, Lilly and May Austin, Run Their Ranch and Scorn Male Help.
Turlock, Calif.—Three young women, typically modern, have incited the envy and admiration of farmers of this region.
In fact, the Austin sisters—Violet, Lilly and May—have begun what may eventually constitute a serious threat to masculine prestige in rural California.
The old theory of masculine supremacy in agriculture has received a knockout blow from Violet, Lilly and May on their 100-acre ranch near here.
Not content with owning the ranch, the three girls run it. They have scorned male help, and in doing so, they have won the admiration of the men of the district.
They plow and irrigate the land, plant and harvest the crops and haul the products to market. For example, here are a few of their accomplishments:
Last year they plowed 100 acres of land; irrigated it; harrowed it; planted it; cultivated the growing crops; harvested them and hauled to market 200 tons of choice melons, 150 tons of grapes and lesser quantities of other fruits and vegetables.
Not satisfied with that, the three girls planted 40 cow peas twice daily; filled ditches; raised 30 acres of alfalfa; pitched hay; mended barns; repaired farming implements and the windmill; weaned calves; raised turkeys and did a thousand and one other things that go with farming.
The Austin farm has become one of the show places of Stanislaus county. Leonard Austin, his wife and the three girls, the oldest by the way, is twenty, and the youngest sixteen, came to this district four years ago and made a down payment on the ranch.
Shortly after that the father became ill. The girls donned overalls, went to work, and met the payments. They didn't take to "farming" to relieve the tedium of social existence and they'll tell you they are doing "nothing heroic."

CITY-BUILDING
This may be said for the Russians. They are progressive, and they have ideas, and the courage of them.
It was so when Peter the Great, most revolutionary and constructive of the czars, built his capital, St. Petersburg, making a great city of barren mud flats, creating a harbor for a merchant marine that did not yet exist, and establishing contact with the busy world.
The same touch is seen now in a new plan for an industrial community adopted by a Communist Government representing the proletariat.
It is to be a modern manufacturing city, built in the far interior of Russia, 270 miles east of Moscow, where today there is level prairie. Factories, dwellings, schools and other trappings essential to community life will all be created new. The project will cost $40,000,000 to $50,000,000. An American firm will do the building. And here is a special Aladdin touch—the firm expects to finish the job in 15 months.

Hawaiian Game of Yo-Yo Takes Texas by Storm
Dallas, Texas.—The Southwest has gone yo-yo. This little Hawaiian game has taken Texas and Oklahoma by storm. In every city, in every village or town, the kiddies, the young people, and even the older ones, are matching their skill with the yo-yo.
A yo-yo is only a piece of round wood with a slit in the middle. A string is attached to the center piece and the object is to roll the top up and down the string.
In Houston, an eleven-year-old boy holds a record of winning and unwinding the top 1,300 times. In Oklahoma a boy holds a marathon record of 10 hours for running the little Hawaiian toy.
At Benito, Texas, a contest is scheduled soon for any one desiring to enter. A yo-yo contest in Amarillo recently drew hundreds of people. At Woodward and Lawton, Okla., the business men take time in the busy hours of the morning to display their yo-yo skill.
At Waxahachie, Texas, the prisoners of the county jail cry, "Give us liberty or give us yo-yo," and the court house officials on the second floor spend considerable time viewing each other as they demonstrate the new American adopted plaything.

Historic Corday Dagger Discovered in Berlin
Berlin.—The historic dagger with which Charlotte Corday stabbed Marat, one of the leaders of the French revolution, has come to light again in Berlin. 135 years after it fulfilled its deadly mission.
It has been purchased by a German business man from M. Alexandre Andreievsky, a well-known Russian immigrant in Berlin. The German business man is keeping his name secret since he wants to test the alleged fatal powers of the dagger.
Andreievsky got the dagger from Colonel Bobitsch, an officer once popular in the crack Guards of the Czar, but who was later dismissed from service without reason.
The colonel attributed his dismissal to the possession of the dagger, saying that members of his family who possessed the weapon for many generations have all been visited by misfortune of one sort or another.

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.
EDDIE REGAN has been persuaded to join a gang of which the "Big Guy" is the leader. Bernice Veressi, a "gang girl," is in love with Eddie, but he becomes disgusted and breaks away. Boarding a freight train, he makes his escape to Virginia, where he meets Marian Thorndike. Penfield Paradine, Southern aristocrat, suffers from a stroke, and Marian and Eddie revive him. Eddie finds shelter under Paradine's roof, and while Eddie and he are talking, Paradine takes a turn for the worse. Marian calls to inquire for him, and Eddie realizes the gulf which yawns between him and the girl of his dreams.

CHAPTER VIII.
HE was intoxicated with his own thoughts. Here was a new realm and kingdom to be achieved. It was all shot through with the glamour of the unknown, the lure of romance. Now, as never before, life flung him a challenge. This was adventure, an opportunity to work with his head and hands and heart. A whole world, beautiful with a purple haze, was waiting to be conquered and irresistibly from the consecration of his spirit there flooded through him a great idea reinforced by a startling determination—he could win, could multiply his strength and aspire until his life would unite with that golden-colored fineness of the girl who was already filling his soul.

Subconsciously, he drew a cigarette from his pocket and filled his lungs with a whiff of smoke; exhaled in a slow, thoughtful pre-occupation.
"I've got something to live for," he meditated, "but what a nerve!" At last, he realized, he had met the girl—the girl that expelled all other women from his consciousness. Actually, he had never paid much attention to girls. Bernice Veressi had blasted through him like a shock of lightning, but he knew now that her appeal had been only to the senses, to the body. Her power had evaporated and left behind a tinge of remorse, but he had been no more than a human—a fellow couldn't exactly be as remotely pure as a girl—a girl like Marian Thorndike.

His own person and his mind, he knew, were gross and he was unfit to touch her hand—but it was possible, he insisted to himself violently, for a man to be swept out of his past and leave it behind—it was like throwing away a discarded suit of clothes.
His whole mind, now, was filled with thoughts of Marian. He had talked with her, had looked into her eyes, and beheld a shimmering vision of a beautiful spirit.

But there was more to her than an idea; there was flesh and warm, form and expression. There was gold in her hair, the blue of the skies in her eyes. Still, he could not imagine her body composed of flesh such as his own. She was made of a finer, more material. Around her was a mist—a lovely, quivering emanation of her spirit, a nebulous halo that poured out from the uncounted unmet pulses of her being.

He was startled to find that he was able to think in such terms of a woman.
The realization of it was almost blinding. It was a miracle of luck that he had almost supernatural revelation—that had enabled him to find her out among the things of the world. He was like a man standing by an unbelievable inheritance. The effect of it was to make him humble and self-condemning. And now was a song that came to him with uncanny hope in his heart.

Perhaps it was a song of olden madness that flooded him. He imagined himself striding upward toward her, darning to her himself sharing her manner of life, uniting his thoughts with hers in lovely and delightful companionship. His dream was a state of excitement, were he to take anything so childish as to get into a region of palpitating bliss.

He went back to the house and found Tobie pattering about in the wide kitchen. The girl was so much in his thoughts that Eddie was utterly unable to restrain the desire to talk about her. Yet, he tried to be shrewd enough to conceal his state of mind.
"Does Miss Thorndike live near us?"
Tobie's eyes looked at him, yellowish and not over friendly. "Bout three—fo' miles."

A new thought, cruel and terrifying, crept into Eddie's mind.
"Does she—is she going with any fellow?"
"Kain't say 'bout her being engaged, but Miss Marian shuah has got plenty young gentlemen pestering 'n' round her. Yaas, shuh. Dar ain't no young lady in dis yere county got so many beaux."

Eddie, unconsciously, was pathetic. "But—but she ain't engaged?"
Tobie looked at him and shook his head.
"Young man—you rest your mind 'bout Miss Marian. She ain't got no time for any strange Yankee. When she gets married, it's gwine to be wid quality. No, shuh, you is between the hawk an' de buzzard, an' dah ain't no hope on earth foh yore chances."

In such an enterprise the minds of two big nations meet, far more easily than they meet on political or social or cultural grounds. Russian dreams and American practicality may make a good combination. They are having a thorough test in team work, with all the business and industrial pioneering our citizens are now doing in Russia.

Has Pony 47 Years Old

Marysville, Kan.—An Indian pony believed to be forty-seven years old is owned by Michael Reuger, a farmer near here. The animal is said to have been one of a herd purchased in 1885 by Charles Phillips. Although it cannot chew corn or prairie hay, the pony still eats oats and alfalfa. It is used to drive cows to and from pasture.

Pickles Explode

Milwaukee.—Explosion of a jar of dill pickles in a restaurant here severely injured the right hand of Charles Brady. He was attempting to open the jar when it burst.

Wine Drunk by Romans

The drink of the ancient Romans was wine, which varied in strength from pure grape juice to a beverage containing alcohol.

THE END OF THE PICNIC SEASON

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

EDDIE REGAN has been persuaded to join a gang of which the "Big Guy" is the leader. Bernice Veress, a "gang girl," is in love with Eddie, but he becomes disgusted and breaks away. Boarding a freight train, he makes his escape to Virginia, where he meets Marian Thorndike. Penfield Paradine, Southern aristocrat, suffers from a stroke, and Marian and Eddie revive him. Eddie finds shelter under Paradine's roof, and while Eddie and he are talking, Paradine takes a turn for the worse. Marian calls to inquire for him, and Eddie realizes the gulf which yawns between him and the girl of his dreams.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VIII.
HE was intoxicated with his own thoughts. Here was a new realm and kingdom to be achieved. It was all shot through with the glamour of the unknown, the lure of romance. Now, as never before, Life lunged him a challenge. This was adventure, an opportunity to work with his head and hands and heart. A whole world, beautiful with a purple haze, was waiting to be conquered, and, irresistibly, from the consecration of his spirit there flooded through him a great idea reinforced by a startling determination—he could win, could multiply his strength and aspire until his life would unite with that golden fineness of the girl who was already filling his soul.

Subconsciously, he drew a cigarette from his pocket and filled his lungs with a whiff of smoke; exhaled in a slow, thoughtful preoccupation.

"I've got something to live for," he meditated, "but what a nerve!"

At last, he realized, he had met the girl—the girl that expelled all other women from his consciousness. Actually, he had never paid much attention to girls. Bernice Veress had blasted through him like a shock of lightning, but he knew now that her appeal had been only to the senses, to the body. Her power had evaporated and had left behind a tinge of remorse, but he had been no more than human and he couldn't exactly be as remotely pure as a girl—a girl like Marian Thorndike.

His own person and his mind, he knew, were gross and he was unfit to touch her hand—but it was possible, he insisted to himself violently, for a man to be swept out of his past and leave it behind—it was like throwing away a discarded suit of clothes.

His whole mind, now, was filled with thoughts of Marian. He had talked with her, had looked into her eyes and beheld a glimmering vision of a beautiful spirit.

But there was more to her than an idea; there was flesh and warmth, form and expression. There was gold in her hair, the blue of the skies in her eyes. Still, he could not imagine her body composed of flesh such as his own. She was made of a finer, magic material, quivering emanation of her spirit, a nebulous halo that poured out from the uncontaminated pith of her being.

He was startled to find that he was able to think in such terms of a woman.

The realization of it was almost blinding. It was a miracle of luck—an almost supernatural revelation—that had enabled him to find her out among the teeming millions on the face of the earth. He was like a man stunned by an unbelievable inheritance. The effect of it was to make him humble and self-condemning—yet there was a song that sang wildly with uncanny hope in his blood.

Perhaps it was a wild-riding madness that flooded him. He envisioned himself struggling upward toward her, daring to picture himself sharing thoughts with hers, uniting his thoughts with hers, lovely and delightful companionship. His dreams, tingling with excitement, were refined above anything sordid as they soared into a region of palpitating bliss.

He went back to the house and found Tobe puttering about in the wide kitchen. The girl was so much in his thoughts that Eddie was utterly unable to restrain the desire to talk about her. Yet, he tried to be shrewd enough to conceal his state of mind.

"Does Miss Thorndike live near us?"

Tobe's eyes looked at him, yellowish and not over-friendly.

"Bout three-fo' miles."

A new thought, cruel and terrifying, crept into Eddie's mind.

"Does she— is she going with any fellow? I mean is she engaged to anybody?"

"Kain't say 'bout her being engaged, but Miss Marian shuah has got plenty young gentlemen pestering 'round her. Yaas, suh. Dar ain't no young lady in dis yere county got so many beaux."

"No, suh."

"Well, I want to tell you something, black boy—don't you worry your head about me none a-tall. Maybe you ain't used to a guy like me, but you might as well get accustomed to the idea of having me on the place, because I'm going to stick around for a while. Mr. Paradine hasn't got any objections to me, and you ought to be the last one to try to put on a high hat."

"I ain't said nothing agin you," Tobe grumbled.

"The worst of it, Tobe, is that you are absolutely right about one thing," Eddie said, sitting down on an empty box beside the kitchen table. "Miss Marian is a million miles above me, and nobody knows it better than I do. But what I don't get straight is your idea that these fellows around here, that you call quality, are so awfully hot. What kind of guys are they, anyway, that gives them so much class to the idea of having them that I ain't got? Is it money?"

"Tain't money."

"Maybe they're good looking guys?"

"No, suh, it's different from dat. Tain't nothing you kin lay yore hands on. Some folks is jest bohn quality an' some ain't—dat's all. Onliest thing is, dey ain't got no time for any trash kind of people."

"And you take one good look at me and make up your mind right away that I am trash. Is that it?"

But there was an innate gentility in the old Negro that disclaimed at once any such low opinion of a white man—particularly, if the white man were present.

"No, suh! I ain't said nothing like dat. What I mean is, you is a foreigner heap an' folks ain't gwine to believe anything different."

Eddie smiled, but he was not exactly happy.

"That's rich—me a foreigner! Well, don't imagine I'm worrying about what anybody on earth thinks about me. All that prejudice stuff runs for Sweeney. I'm just a New York boy trying to get along in the country." He grinned. "Just forget this whole conversation, Uncle. Here—take this."

He extended a silver half dollar toward Tobe, but the old Negro looked at it without movement to accept.

"No, suh; thank you suh, very kindly. I's working foh Mars Penfield an' he wouldn't like foh me to take it."

An odd thought occurred suddenly to Eddie. Maybe this old fellow had belonged to Mr. Penfield.

"Say, you're pretty old, Tobe. You didn't use to be a slave, did you?"

The white kinky head was turned slightly away.

"I was bohn on dis yere plantation befoh de wah," Tobe said, with a tone that was, somehow, hushed.

Eddie left the room and went upstairs. Penfield Paradine was stretched out under the covers of his bed, an inert husk of a man. His voice was dry, brittle.

"It's good to have you around the place," he said. "It seems like new life has come into the house."

Eddie sat with him till the old man drifted off into a light sleep. Back in his own room, Eddie lit a cigarette.

"I am not like these people down here," he told himself secretly. "They think I am some kind of a foreigner."

He got up abruptly and looked at the reflection of his face in a square toilet mirror that sat atop a mahogany highboy. It was the first time he had ever really studied himself.

PROTEST OVER TARIFF VAIN

Republicans Turn Deaf Ears To Requests of Foreign Powers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The suggestion of France and England that world tariff revisions be postponed for two years fell upon deaf Republican ears today as administration leaders pushed the senate toward enactment of their new tariff bill.

The flood of oratory that swept the senate for four days in defense and criticism of the new measure has given way to consideration of the minor legislative and administrative features—including organization of the tariff commission, the flexible tariff provision and the question of valuations—was postponed until next week.

The movement for a "status quo" in world tariffs for the next two years meanwhile will find little sympathy in Republican organization circles, in making their suggestion, France and England proposed that the negotiations might be carried on through the world court. This alone would lessen the chances for American cooperation even if there were no economic objections.

Republican leaders pointed out that the American tariff is enacted to protect American manufacturers, workers and farmers against cheap foreign imports. Democratic spokesmen, however, suggested the European anti-tariff move was indicative of world opposition to high American tariffs.

THIS YEAR TO TEST BISHOPS' GRID SYSTEM

Ohio Wesleyan Will Start Football Season With Only Four Regulars.

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 14.—The 1929 gridiron season will provide a thorough test of the Ohio Wesleyan system in football which has been developed by George A. Gauthier during his eight years as coach of the Battling Bishops.

Ohio Wesleyan expects to start the season with only four of the players who were included in the starting line-up last year, although 15 letermen have reported for practice. Robert Jones, guard; James Blair, center; Merwin Brees, quarterback, and Francis Thomas, halfback, are the only veterans from the starting lineup upon whom Coach Gauthier can count on now.

The Bishops lost by graduation such players as Captain James Clancy, All-Ohio fullback; Frank Abbey and Norman Scribner, giant tackles who were rated among the best in Ohio; Don Campbell, guard; Robert Kyle and Ray Coleman, ends, and John Halliday, the Bishop's famous red-headed half-back who repeatedly gained all-Buckeye honors.

SPREADS EXPERIENCE
Had Gauthier relied upon a highly developed first team to carry the full burden of the Bishop's attack last season he would have only four veteran players available. The Gauthier system, however, seeks to give as many players game experience as possible.

By 1928 Coach Gauthier had developed his system at Ohio Wesleyan to the point where he was able to use two full teams in every game. He did not make merely individual substitutions but substituted an entire team at once in every game of the season including the contests with Michigan and Syracuse, both Wesleyan victories.

The 1929 season will serve to indicate the value of this system for Gauthier will have available this fall, -- veteran players from the second team which he used in every game last year.

ARMY GAME HARDEST
If he can find a solution to the difficulties at end, the "little giant" believes that he has good possibilities. Ohio Wesleyan should finish the season at the top of the Buckeye association ladder, again, but this time alone, Gauthier declares. Last year, Wesley-

The game with the Army at West Point will provide, obviously, Ohio Wesleyan's stiffest opposition this season. Miami, which the Bishops will meet in a game which will dedicate the new Seiby Athletic field here October 19, is regarded as likely to give a harder game than any other Ohio team.

Intelligibility promises to hit the Battling Bishops hard this season unless work done in summer school will serve to make a number of players eligible. Floyd Seigenthaler, star end, is among the ineligible, as well as several promising sophomores.

The city of Valencia is on that wonderful bit of Spanish Mediterranean coast where the climate is so much more certain than that of the Italian Riviera or the French Cote d'Azur. It is curious that so many places in this district should be associated with "desert." Valencia and Malaga raisins, Denia oranges, Barcelona nuts—they are all familiar to us. And Tarragona supplies a wine which does duty on many a British dinner table for port.

PROTEST OVER TARIFF VAIN

Republicans Turn Deaf Ears To Requests of Foreign Powers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—The suggestion of France and England that world tariff revisions be postponed for two years fell upon deaf Republican ears today as administration leaders pushed the senate toward enactment of their new tariff bill.

The flood of oratory that swept the senate for four days in defense and criticism of the new measure has given way to consideration of the minor legislative and administrative features including organization of the tariff commission, the flexible tariff provision and the question of valuations—was postponed until next week.

The movement for a "status quo" in world tariffs for the next two years meanwhile will find little sympathy in Republican organization circles, in making their suggestion, France and England proposed that the negotiations might be carried on through the world court. This alone would lessen the chances for American cooperation even if there were no economic objections.

Republican leaders pointed out that the American tariff is enacted to protect American manufacturers, workers and farmers against cheap foreign imports.

Democratic spokesmen, however, suggested the European anti-tariff move was indicative of world opposition to high American tariffs.

THIS YEAR TO TEST BISHOPS' GRID SYSTEM

Ohio Wesleyan Will Start Football Season With Only Four Regulars.

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 14—The 1929 gridiron season will provide a thorough test of the Ohio Wesleyan system in football which has been developed by George A. Gauthier during his eight years as coach of the Battling Bishops.

Ohio Wesleyan expects to start the season with only four of the players who were included in the starting line-up last year, although 15 lettermen have reported for practice. Robert Jones, guard; James Blair, center; Merwin Breese, quarterback, and Francis Thomas, halfback, are the only veterans from the starting lineup upon whom Coach Gauthier can count on now.

The Bishops lost by graduation such players as Captain James Clancy, All-Ohio fullback; Frank Abbey and Norman Scribner, giant tackles who were rated among the best in Ohio; Don Campbell, guard; Robert Kyle and Ray Coleman, ends, and John Halliday, the Bishop's famous red-headed halfback who repeatedly gained all-Buckeye honors.

SPREADS EXPERIENCE

Had Gauthier relied upon a highly developed first team to carry the full burden of the Bishop's attack last season he would have only four veteran players available. The Gauthier system, however, seeks to give as many players game experience as possible.

By 1928 Coach Gauthier had developed his system at Ohio Wesleyan to the point where he was able to use two full teams in every game. He did not make merely individual substitutions but substituted an entire team at once in every game of the season including the contests with Michigan and Syracuse, both Wesleyan victories.

The 1929 season will serve to indicate the value of this system for Gauthier will have available this fall, -- veteran players from the second team which he used in every game last year.

ARMY GAME HARDEST

If he can find a solution to the difficulties at end, the "little giant" believes that he has good possibilities. Ohio Wesleyan should finish the season at the top of the Buckeye association ladder, again, but this time alone, Gauthier declares. Last year, Wesleyan and Wittenberg were tied for first place honors.

The game with the Army at West Point will provide, obviously, Ohio Wesleyan's stiffest opposition this season. Miami, which the Bishops will meet in a game which will dedicate the new Selby Athletic field here October 19, is regarded as likely to give a harder game than any other Ohio team.

Ineligibility promises to hit the Battling Bishops hard this season unless work done in summer school will serve to make a number of players eligible. Floyd Seigenthaler, star end, is among the ineligible, as well as several promising sophomores.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

During the first few days of school some pupils came and then withdrew after the first day.It is unfortunate, for them that they do not have the foresight to look into the future. They have wasted one of the greatest opportunities ever offered them.And the question is "what will they do?" An education is one of the finest things a man can possess and without it he is almost like a ship out on the sea without a rudder.

He is practically helpless.

Because now-ads one of the first questions a prospective employer asks is "How much education have you had?" And the man with a small education is practically lost.And so it is with these few pupils who have forsaken that golden opportunity. Will they be as much of a success as their fellow-men who have taken advantage of the schools? Or will they revert to the pick and shovel to earn a living?An education is a valuable asset students so do not waste the opportunity that the schools of today present to you.Remember that the man who is a success in life is the one who takes advantage of every opportunity presented and this one schooling is one of the main ones.

So take it and make the best of it.

The successful man never says
die.

CLASSES REARRANGED

Mr. Eagleson, has had Mr.

Kraft and Mr. Daley, busy arranging the pupils in the grades
in such a manner that the number of pupils is more equally divided. In some rooms, there are over 60 pupils, while in others
there are but 20 for the same grade. In order that the teachers may have fewer pupils and more time for the number which they have, this arrangement is being made. This always neces-itates sending some pupils to the High-st district every year where it is always crowded.There are only four grades at Walnut-st school. Hence, pupils entering the fifth grade have to be sent to the other schools.

Franklin-st and Corwin-st.

Some pupils have a long distance to go to school due to the new arrangement but this is unavoidable.

CHAPEL

Students entered chapel Monday morning in a more orderly way than heretofore, due to the new system of regularly assigned seats.After the entire student body participated in the singing of several songs led by Elizabeth Roundhouse, pianist, Principal Gephart

then pointed out how pupils can be cheat deceivers. One way, which he mentioned, dealt with football.
Many men who could help to support their team are not willing to study. These people are self deceivers. The same lesson was applied to slackers in dramatics and class organizations.An explanation was then made regarding absent and tardy excuses.John Heiskell ran approximately 50 yards on the kick off throughout the second team for a touch down
in practice Wednesday night.The football boys have nine plays so far; they are receiving honors on an average of two plays a night.

ORCHESTRA BRIEFS

A special meeting for all prospective members of the orchestra was held Tuesday evening in the auditorium for the purpose of organizing for the coming school year.Approximately the same number of students as last year reported. There are still a few openings in the orchestra for pupils who wish to become members of the organization. Several instruments have not been taken up by any of the students. They are as follows: The bass horn or string bass, French horn, accordion, orchestra bells, banjo, cello, viola and Xylophone. These openings may be of special interest to freshmen or sophomores, who wish to take them up.Parents are encouraged to have their children take up some of these instruments as it will be a wonderful opportunity for them to take up musical instruments and also a chance to take up orchestral work.C. F. Zaenglein, director of the high school orchestra, asks that all people desiring to take up any of the musical instruments which have not already been taken, to report to him immediately.

EPSILON MU SIGMA

A short business meeting of the Epsilon Mu Sigma was held Wednesday evening in Miss Kuhlman's room with Gladys Harris, last year's president, presiding.The members decided to present a flag to the school, having cleared
a considerable amount of money in last year's candy sale.A meeting will be held Tuesday for the election of officers.

HI-4 MEETS

Initial get together meeting of the HI-Y club was held Thursday
noon at 12:15.Plans relative to Tuesday noon sessions were discussed. Mr.
Gephart suggested several club enterprises in which the HI-Y is interested and expected to foster
the coming year.The treasurer's report showed that the club has over three dollars with which to start its new year.The following members had charge: Hugh Cartwright, president; Sheldon Mader, secretary, and Richard Nickerson, treasurer.The first formal meeting will be held next Tuesday at 12:15.

ENGLISH TESTS GIVEN

The Dr. Inglis tests of English vocabulary prepared in the graduate school of education at Harvard University were given to all freshmen and junior English classes
Tuesday of this week. These tests are designed to test the extent of the student's vocabulary.Standard ratings in this test are: College freshmen, 70; high school senior, 58; junior, 52; sophomore, 42, and freshmen, 30.The highest grade made in the junior class was 72.6; the lowest grade was 21; the median was 32.Last year's results were: Juniors, high 74 median 43, low 22;
freshmen—high 60, median 30, and low 12.Those in the junior class achieving more than the national junior scores are as follows: Zelma
Hoffman, 72.6; Loring Peters 70.6; Dorothy Styers, 62.6; Charles Brown, 58; Clarence Barnhart, and Elizabeth Groom, 54.6; Bernice Dearth and Thomas Stofor, 54; Jeanette Bower, Martha Kinney, Cleo Brown and Jessie Cummings, 52.The freshmen achieving more than freshman score are: Howard Ater, 62; Elwood McCreary, 54;
Charlotte Caskey, 54; Ruth Henderson, 53; Lloyd Truik, 49; Lillian Binkley, 49; Gene Rader, 49;
Ruth Moffitt, 48; Rosemary Jackson and Mary Jane Lowe, 47; Lincoln Mader, 46; Avanel Haecker, 45.

ABSCONE EXCUSES

Excuse blanks were passed out to all students in C. H. S. Tuesday morning. After distributing the blanks the teachers then explained that the students were to take them home and keep them until their first absence.Attendance record blanks were also distributed. On this blank
the students were required to write down their schedules. According to Mr. Gephart this is done in order to keep a better attendance record of the student and in case of a prompt necessity, it would not necessitate much trouble
in locating the student.

NEW EQUIPMENT

During the past week C. H. S. has acquired several new useful articles. One of these is a new flag, which is three by five yards and the pole is eight feet long. The flag and pole were purchased from Dobson and Evans of Columbus.A new standard Underwood Typewriter has also been purchased from the Underwood Typewriting Company of Columbus. According to Mr. Gephart the typewriter will be for office use only.The typewriter differs from other typewriters in that it has an extra large carriage.

VACATIONISTS

Where, students, were your teachers this summer? Here are the answers:Mr. J. O. Eagleson spent eleven weeks of his vacation attending Ohio State University. He took the following classes in School Administration: organization of tests, principles of administration in schools, selection and training of teachers, curriculum reorganization, and state organization of schools.Mr. E. L. Gephart attended O.
S. W. for six weeks. He took courses under the School administration department. Later he visited relatives. During the three weeks prior to the opening of school he arranged schedules at the high school building.J. M. Guthrie attended the "Knute Rockne and Dr. Meanwell, Coaches' School for two weeks at Wittenberg College. Later he worked at Camp Sherman's new Hospital and later became Life Guard at Crystal Pool, Athens.Mr. Vernon Keeler spent his vacation in Canton, Ohio. He called on over one thousand high school graduates and acted as vocational adviser and assisted registrar for Canton Actual Business College, Canton, Ohio. While there he took special accountancy training, and progressive methods of teaching commercial subjects.Miss Louise Kuhlman remained at home this summer with her parents at Toledo, Ohio.Miss Margaret Mattinson spent most of her vacation at her home
in South Charleston, making several visits in Circleville and Ashtabula, Ohio. She later took a motor trip through Ohio, West Virginia, and Virginia, visiting many places of scenic and historic interest.Miss Gertrude Pigman attended the June Commencement at Miami University, which is her Alma Mater.Later she and her sister took a trip west. They went to Yellowstone National Park, stopping first at Mammoth Hot Springs. In the blue water of these springs
can be found pink and rose colorings, which are caused by the growth of minute plants. These colors disappear when the flow of water stops. From there they went to "Old Faithful" and found that geyser as faithful as ever.Old faithful plays about every 63 minutes. Then they went to Canyon Camp and saw the beautiful falls of the Yellowstone which are twice as high as Niagara. The last day there was spent in an all-day bus trip down the Shoshone Canyon, experiencing all the thrills of the hairpin turns on the road to Cody, Wyoming.The next stop was at Glacier National Park of Canada. They took a launch trip on Waterton Lake and crossed the natural boundary,
which as just a strip of land, three feet wide. It looks like a wide path on both sides of the lake, going up into the mountains.Although Miss Elma Rains remained at home in Columbus to enjoy most of her vacation, she found time to visit friends at Athens and spend one week at Indian Lake.Travel occupied first place in Miss Velma Watson's vacation
She journeyed southwest, visiting Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma,
Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri.
The Ozark region, which is the setting of H. B. Wright's "Shepherd of the Hills," proved to be a very interesting place. The flat cotton lands around the Mississippi were not so pretty as the Ozark Hills but were very interesting. She also visited Ponca
City, Okla., near the well known 101 Ranch.Mr. Fred Watts spent his summer talking to high school graduates interested in a business education and securing students for Bliss College. His work kept him mainly in Pickaway, Fairfield, Perry and Fayette counties. Aside to enrolling students he secured board and room for those who wanted it or work which would enable them to pay for their board and room while in school. He met practically every student he had signed up, arranged their schedules, and placed them in their respective private homes or boarding houses.Mr. Charles Zaenglein spent six weeks at O. S. W. He specialized in Manual Training.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The teachers of C. H. S. have arranged the following plans for physical education: Miss Kuhlman—"Freshman girls will have recreation ball."Miss Mattinson—"The sophomores will be given calisthenic drills, German baseball and marching drills."Miss Watson—"Junior and senior girls are organizing recreation ball teams."Mr. Fetherlin—"The freshman boys will be given setting up exercises and will hold a recreation ball tournament soon."Mr. Keeler—"Sophomore boys will have setting up exercises, military drill, and instruction in various other kinds of athletics."Mr. Watts—"The junior and senior boys will be given military and calisthenic drills."

TENTATIVE TEAM

Circleville Tigers are living up to their name in practice. Hard scrimmages have been going on nightly and the boys have been showing up well.Many things have to be touched up, and the weak spots to be strengthened, but nevertheless the team is looking fine.Although no first team has been definitely picked the following follows have held down their positions well on the first string practice team: Hundley, full; Heiskell, half; Hill, half; Davis, quarter;
Hies and White, ends; Rector and Hoffman, tackles; McCollister and Gordon, guards; Wilbur Adkins, center. Substituting for these men
the following have also looked well: Wilson, half; Adkins, quarter; Malcolm Russell and Green, ends; Lewis and Joel Russell, guards.The managerial staff this year is very effective? This consists of a senior, James Brown; junior, Don Rader; sophomore, Waldo Hilyard; and a freshman, Elwood McCreary.

NEW RULING

A new law enacted by the State Athletic Association has reached
C. H. S. and will be put into effect at once. This law is article 22 of the State High School Athletic Constitution. The administrative head of the school shall have each pupil who is trying for a place on a football, basketball or track team, present a physician's certificate to the effect that he or she is physically fit for athletic competition. The parents' consent in writing shall likewise be required.Principal Gephart has received a pack of these cards and each athlete will be required to have one signed. These cards may be obtained at the principal's office.

COACH IN OFFICE

Coach J. M. Guthrie has been provided with an office in the south end of the first floor corridor.Lockers are to be installed in this office for the purpose of storing athletic equipment.

C. H. S. IN CLASS A

Hereafter the Tigers Athletic Team will play in class A division of athletics according to the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.This change was made due to the fact that Circleville high school now has an enrollment of 149 boys. The limit for class B schools is 135.This change however will not restrict the school from playing generally with whom it pleases because of the fact that the rule applies to tournaments only.

FOOTBALL MEN TO VISIT

Coach Guthrie, and all football
men have been invited to attend
a meeting of the Ohio Association of Football officials at the Desh-ler-Wallick Hotel, September 14.At this time there will be made a complete interpretation of the 1929 football rules from cover to cover.Walter Okeson and Dr. Lambert, two members of the National Football Rules committee, will speak and discuss the pro's and con's of the new rules. Picture shows covering the different interpretations of the new rules will also be held.

WHAT! NO FOOLIN'!

A very fine play was given on the football field Monday night when Coach Guthrie gave several of the members a fine work out.All line men were sent to one end of the field to tackle the dummy
while the coach instructed his back field on the other end of the gridiron. The boys thinking that the coach was busy and not able to watch them decided to have a good time. After making five foolish slow and easy tackles instead of the way they have been shown, they started for the locker room. But to their dismay Coach Guthrie had big things planned for them.These fellows were given six laps around the track for their punishment. The boys will accept the following motto for future use:
"No foolin'!"

"COLD WATER"

"Hap" Hilyard and Coach Guthrie had the main go in their hands late Monday evening. "Hap" decided to throw cold water on the coach and he objected to this kind of play. Without a moment's hesitation Guthrie held the struggling manager under the cold shower.Luckily having old clothes on
"Hap" was not hurt. Coach Guthrie feels much better after this work out while the manager is satisfied for once.

SCHOOL VISITORS

Kathryn and Faye Puckett '27
and '28, and Evan Phillips '29
were visitors at Circleville high school Thursday afternoon.Faye and Kathryn were both basket ball stars.They will soon return to Miami university, Miami, O.

Betty Cooper Is Star Of Fashion Showing At Grand

Beautiful costumes, excellent dancing and youth, all contrived at the J. C. Penney style show, Friday at the Grand theatre, to make an evening extraordinary. Circleville patrons realize the privilege of seeing Betty Cooper in her acrobatic dance numbers, and each time she favors her home town audience with an appearance, the theatre is filled and there are always as many waiting on the outside.Billie Leonard, Columbus personality girl, gave the display program a steady start with her song and dance acts. Her encore was "Do Sompin'."The stage performance at the theatre started with the playing of Ohio State's "Fight the Team," and then Circleville's "Red and Black," as the high school football team trooped in the front door, and up on the stage. They were followed by a number of girls in sports attire, who appeared to be going to the football game. There were several enthusiastic yells and the team left the stage after a signal had been given. Paul Wallace and Dudley Mills were the cheer leaders.A showing of smart coats for women and a number for children, followed. Then came Billie Leonard who was followed by Betty Cooper and her Kiddie Revue.
None of the dancers were very large, but Betty was the tiniest.
Her costumes were new and she had several new dances. A new adagio number with Junior Ott in which she executed some difficult front splits, and many acrobatic falls, was especially popular with the audience. The child is extremely clever, and in later years, if she chooses a stage career, the home folks will be saying "I knew her when," etc. etc. The Russian dance, although not new, is still astounding, and the Russian Ballet, and all the regulation Russian whirl, and steps were performed
like a veteran. Another new number, was; the eccentric doll number, Betty made a beautiful doll
with bobbing curls and happy smile.Another Circleville dancer appeared on the program. She was Mary Margaret Fohl, a new pupil of Eddie Powell, who looked very lovely and danced exceeding well, for a pupil who has studied less than a year.The "Dance of the Paper Dolls"
was Elsie Baird's act in a dazzling white suit and beret. The dainity and graceful toe dancer in white was Margaret Rockhold, also of Columbus, and all pupils of Eddie Powell, who is Betty's instructor.
The children in the revue were all his pupils.The style show proper started by Miss Alice Ada May, in a black satin dress with long skirt, calling the J. C. Penney Store on the telephone. The conversation that followed described the different costumes, worn by some of Circleville's most beautiful girls. There were sport dresses, and coats,
street dresses, evening creations,
and many beautiful coats. A good variety of styles and sizes were represented, showing the trend of the skirt lengths, the flattering
fur arrangements in the coats, many of which were flaired.The part that sports coats will play this winter was shown by the smart appearance they give to es-pecially the college girls. There were a number of strangers behind the scenes, who had accompanied the children dancers, and they all thought that the models for the style show were girls that had been imported for the event.The girls taking part in the style show were Misses Alice Ada May, Evelyn Adkins, Peggy Courtright,
Margie Hunsicker, Mary May Haswell, Doris Peters, Ruth Holman, Helen Schiear, Jinsy Mader, Jane Mader, Harriett Mason, Jeanne Crowe, Helen Hitler, Marian Hitler, Lucile Rooney, Marian Hitcheock, Hilda Thomas, Jane Littleton, Anne Viershove, Matilda Davis, Helen Ruth Mosley, and Mrs. Vernon Hawk.

FAREWELL MEETING FOR REV. PETERS

Remembering that the Rev. B.
C. Peters was leaving Circleville only for a larger parish and an advancement in his work, the group of members of the United Bretheran church who gathered Friday night at the Parish house, succeeded in having a pleasant social time in spite of the gloom they felt at his leaving. The function was given in his honor and for his wife who had also achieved a great deal
during her brief residence in Circleville.The community house was filled with members of the church and their friends. The program of the evening consisted of short talks by J. R. Kirkpatrick, George Goddard, J. E. Milliron, George Martin, T. F. Leffler, M. C. Kirkwood, W. S. Baker and James Trimmer.
E. S. Neuding, treasurer and trustee of the church acted as spokesman, who called on these speakers, and who made the introductions. Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. M. C. Kirkwood and Mrs. Margaret Smith also said a few words.The Rev. Peters responded and spoke again when he was presented with a purse of $30, a gift from those present. Mrs. Peters, who worked faithfully with the young-people of the church and especially with the Otterbein guild, was presented with a lemonade set from that organization. Lucile Kirkwood made the presentation speech, to which Mrs. Peters graciously responded. The Rev. M.
R. White of this city also spoke briefly.At an appointed hour a light lunch was served to the guests, by the Ladies Aid of the church.The best wishes of the congregation will go with Rev. Peters and his family to their new location at Logan, O.

EVERYONE ENJOYS COUNTRY CLUB PARTY

It was a jolly evening Friday at the Country club when 48 members gathered at the club house for a 500 card party. Twelve tables had been set up on the porch, where the swinging lanterns, and late summer flowers of every description made a typical country club social scene. The different colors of the asters, snapdragons, zinnias, marigolds were carefully arranged and intermingled with ageratum, in large baskets, and placed about the porch effectively.Five rounds of 500 were played, before R. R. Bales and George Foreman gathered up the highest scores. When these were compared it was discovered that three players had scores of 1710. These were Bryce Briggs, H. M. Crites
and Miss Adeline Weldon. Mrs.
Meeker Terwilliger, had the highest score of 1950 and received theladies prize and Miss Weldon won the second. Mr. Crites and Mrs.
Briggs drew for first and second men's prizes.Among the Circleville guests were Mrs. Harriett Weldon of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Amson of Holyoke, Mass.Mrs. Glenn Nickerson headed the committee for the affair and others on the committee and assisting were Mrs. Germain Joseph, Mrs. George Foreman, Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Mrs. R. R. Bales, Miss Sally Caldwell and Miss Fanny and Miss Helen Joseph.

EXCHANGE LIST

First edition of the Red and Black has been sent to the following schools for exchange: Capital University, Central Hi and South Hi, Columbus; Chillicothe Hi; Ohio University, Athens; McClain Hi, Greenfield; Miami University, Oxford; Cambridge Hi; Muskingum College, New Concord; Canfield Hi; Adena Hi; St. Clairsville Hi; Stockport Hi; West Mill Creek Hi, Erie, Pa.; North Central College, Naperville, Ill.; Delaware Hi; Jackson Hi, Ohio Northern University, Ada.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

During the first few days of school some pupils came and then withdrew after the first day. It is unfortunate, for them that they do not have the foresight to look into the future. They have wasted one of the greatest opportunities ever offered them. And the question is "what will they do?" An education is one of the finest things a man can possess and without it he is almost like a ship out on the sea without a rudder. He is practically helpless. Because now-ads one of the first questions a prospective employer asks is "How much education have you had?" And the man with a small education is practically lost. And so it is with these few pupils who have forsaken that golden opportunity. Will they be as much of a success as their fellowmen who have taken advantage of the schools? Or will they revert to the pick and shovel to earn a living? An education is a valuable asset students so do not waste the opportunity that the schools of today present to you. Remember that the man who is a success in life is the one who takes advantage of every opportunity presented and this one schooling is one of the main ones. So take it and make the best of it. The successful man never says die.

CLASSES REARRANGED

Mr. Eagleson, has had Mr. Kraft and Mr. Daley, busy rearranging the pupils in the grades in such a manner that the number of pupils is more equally divided. In some rooms, there are over 60 pupils, while in others there are but 20 for the same grade. In order that the teachers may have fewer pupils and more time for the number which they have, this arrangement is being made. This always necessitates sending some pupils to the High-st district every year where it is always crowded.

There are only four grades at Walnut-st school. Hence, pupils entering the fifth grade have to be sent to the other schools, Franklin-st and Corwin-st.

Some pupils have a long distance to go to school due to the new arrangement but this is unavoidable.

CHAPEL

Students entered chapel Monday morning in a more orderly way than heretofore, due to the new system of regularly assigned seats.

After the entire student body participated in the singing of several songs led by Elizabeth Roundhouse, pianist, Principal Gephart then pointed out how pupils can become deceivers. One way, which he mentioned, dealt with football. Many men who could help to support their team are not willing to try. These people are self-deceivers. The same lesson was applied to slackers in dramatics and class organizations.

An explanation was then made regarding absent and tardy excuses.

John Heiskell ran approximately 80 yards on the kick off through the second team for a touch down in practice Wednesday night.

The football boys have nine plays so far; they are receiving now on an average of two plays a night.

ORCHESTRA BRIEFS

A special meeting for all prospective members of the orchestra was held Tuesday evening in the auditorium for the purpose of organizing for the coming school year.

Approximately the same number of students as last year reported. There are still a few openings in the orchestra for pupils who wish to become members of the organization. Several instruments have not been taken up by any of the students. They are as follows: The bass horn or string bass, French horn, accordion, orchestra bells, banjo, cello, viola and Xylophone. These openings may be of special interest to freshmen or sophomores, who wish to take them up.

Parents are encouraged to have their children take up some of these instruments as it will be a wonderful opportunity for them to take up musical instruments and also a chance to take up orchestral work.

C. F. Zaenglein, director of the high school orchestra, asks that all people desiring to take up any of the musical instruments which have not already been taken, to report to him immediately.

EPSILON MU SIGMA

A short business meeting of the Epsilon Mu Sigma was held Wednesday evening in Miss Kuhlman's room with Gladys Harris, last year's president, presiding.

The members decided to present a flag to the school, having cleared a considerable amount of money in last year's candy sale.

A meeting will be held Tuesday for the election of officers.

HI-4 MEETS

Initial get together meeting of the HI-Y club was held Thursday noon at 12:15.

Plans relative to Tuesday noon sessions were discussed. Mr. Gephart suggested several club enterprises in which the HI-Y is interested and expected to foster the coming year.

The treasurer's report showed that the club has over three dollars with which to start its new year.

The following members had charge: Hugh Cartwright, president; Sheldon Mader, secretary, and Richard Nickerson, treasurer.

The first formal meeting will be held next Tuesday at 12:15.

ENGLISH TESTS GIVEN

The Dr. Inglis tests of English vocabulary prepared in the graduate school of education at Harvard University were given to all freshmen and junior English classes Tuesday of this week. These tests are designed to test the extent of the student's vocabulary.

Standard ratings in this test are: College freshmen, 70; high school senior, 58; junior, 52; sophomore, 42, and freshmen, 30.

The highest grade made in the junior class was 72.6; the lowest grade was 21; the median was 32.

Last year's results were: Juniors, high 74 median 43, low 22; freshmen—high 60, median 30, and low 12.

Those in the junior class achieving more than the national junior scores are as follows: Zelma Hoffman, 72.6; Loring Peters 70.6; Dorothy Styers, 62.6; Charles Brown, 58; Clarence Barnhart, and Elizabeth Groom, 54.6; Bernice Dearth and Thomas Stofor, 54; Jeanette Bower, Marth Kinney, Cleo Brown and Jessie Cummings, 52.

The freshmen achieving more than freshman score are: Howard Ater, 62; Elwood McCreary, 54; Charlotte Caskey, 54; Ruth Henderson, 53; Lloyd Truix, 49; Lillian Binkley, 49; Gene Rader, 49; Ruth Moffitt, 48; Rosemary Jackson and Mary Jane Lowe, 47; Lincoln Mader, 46; Avanel Haecker, 45.

ABSENCE EXCUSES

Excuse blanks were passed out to all students in C. H. S. Tuesday morning. After distributing the blanks the teachers then explained that the students were to take them home and keep them until their first absence.

Attendance record blanks were also distributed. On this blank the students were required to write down their schedules. According to Mr. Gephart this is done in order to keep a better attendance record of the student and in case of a prompt necessity, it would not necessitate much trouble in locating the student.

NEW EQUIPMENT

During the past week, C. H. S. has acquired several new useful articles. One of these is a new flag, which is three by five yards and the pole is eight feet long. The flag and pole were purchased from Dobson and Evans of Columbus.

A new standard Underwood Typewriter has also been purchased from the Underwood Typewriter Company of Columbus. According to Mr. Gephart the typewriter will be for office use only. The typewriter differs from other typewriters in that it has an extra large carriage.

From there they went to "Old Faithful" and found that geyser as faithful as ever.

Old faithful plays about every 63 minutes. Then they went to Canyon Camp and saw the beautiful falls of the Yellowstone which are twice as high as Niagara. The last day there was spent in an all-day bus trip down the Shoshone Canyon, experiencing all the thrills of the hairpin turns on the road to Cody, Wyoming.

The next stop was at Glacier National Park of Canada. They took a launch trip on Waterton Lake and crossed the natural boundary, which as just a strip of land, three feet wide. It looks like a wide path on both sides of the lake, going up into the mountains.

Although Miss Elma Rains remained at home in Columbus to enjoy most of her vacation, she found time to visit friends at Athens and spend one week at Indian Lake.

Travel occupied first place in Miss Velma Watson's vacation. She journeyed southwest, visiting Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Missouri. The Ozark region, which is the setting of H. B. Wright's "Shepherd of the Hills," proved to be a very interesting place. The flat cotton lands around the Mississippi were not so pretty as the Ozark Hills but were very interesting. She also visited Ponca City, Okla., near the well known 101 Ranch.

Mr. Fred Watts spent his summer talking to high school graduates interested in a business education and securing students for Bliss College. His work kept him mainly in Pickaway, Fairfield, Perry and Fayette counties. Aside to enrolling students he secured a board and room for those who wanted it or work which would enable them to pay for their board and room while in school. He met practically every student he had signed up, arranged their schedules, and placed them in their respective private homes or boarding houses.

Mr. Charles Zaenglein spent six weeks at O. S. W. He specialized in Manual Training.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The teachers of C. H. S. have arranged the following plans for physical education: Miss Kuhlman—"Freshman girls will have recreation ball."

Miss Mattinson—"The sophomores will be given calisthenic drills. German baseball and marching drills."

Miss Watson—"Junior and senior girls are organizing recreation ball teams."

Mr. Fetherlin—"The freshman boys will be given setting up exercises and will hold a recreation ball tournament soon."

Mr. Keeler—"Sophomore boys will have setting up exercises, military drill, and instructions in various other kinds of athletics."

Mr. Watts—"The junior and senior boys will be given military and calisthenic drills."

TENTATIVE TEAM

Circleville Tigers are living up to their name in practice. Hard scrimmages have been going on nightly and the boys have been showing up well.

Many things have to be touched up, and the weak spots to be strengthened, but nevertheless the team is looking fine.

Although no first team has been definitely picked the following fellows have held down their positions well on the first string practice team: Hundley, full; Heiskell, half; Hill, half; Davis, quarter; Iles and White, ends; Rector and Hoffman, tackles; McCollister and Gordon, guards; Wilbur Adkins, center. Substituting for these men the following have also looked well: Wilson, half; Adkins, quarter; Malcolm Russell and Green, ends; Lewis and Joel Russell, guards.

The managerial staff this year is very effective? This consists of a senior, James Brown; junior, Don Rader; sophomore, Waldo Hilyard; and a freshman, Elwood McCreary.

NEW RULING

A new law enacted by the State Athletic Association has reached C. H. S. and will be put into effect at once. This law is article 22 of the State High School Athletic Constitution. The administrative head of the school shall have each pupil who is trying for a place on a football, basket ball or track team, present a physician's certificate to the effect that he or she is physically fit for athletic competition. The parents' consent in writing shall likewise be required.

Principal Gephart has received a pack of these cards and each athlete will be required to have one signed. These cards may be obtained at the principal's office.

COACH IN OFFICE

Coach J. M. Guthrie has been provided with an office in the south end of the first floor corridor.

Lockers are to be installed in this office for the purpose of storing athletic equipment.

C. H. S. IN CLASS A

Hereafter the Tigers Athletic Team will play in class A division of athletics according to the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

This change was made due to the fact that Circleville high school now has an enrollment of 149 boys. The limit for class B schools is 135.

This change however will not restrict the school from playing generally with whom it pleases because of the fact that the rule applies to tournaments only.

FOOTBALL MEN TO VISIT

Coach Guthrie, and all football men have been invited to attend a meeting of the Ohio Association of Football officials at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, September 14.

At this time there will be made a complete interpretation of the 1929 football rules from cover to cover.

Walter Okeson and Dr. Lambert, two members of the National Football Rules committee, will speak and discuss the pro's and con's of the new rules. Picture shows covering the different interpretations of the new rules will also be held.

WHAT! NO FOOLIN'!

A very fine play was given on the football field Monday night when Coach Guthrie gave several of the members a fine work out.

All line men were sent to one end of the field to tackle the dummy while the coach instructed his back field on the other end of the gridiron. The boys thinking that the coach was busy and not able to watch them decided to have a good time. After making five foolish slow and easy tackles instead of the way they have been shown, they started for the locker room. But to their dismay Coach Guthrie had big things planned for them.

These fellows were given six laps around the track for their punishment. The boys will accept the following motto for future use: "No foolin'!"

"COLD WATER"

"Hap" Hilyard and Coach Guthrie had the main go in their hands late Monday evening. "Hap" decided to throw cold water on the coach and he objected to this kind of play. Without a moment's hesitation Guthrie held the struggling manager under the cold shower. Luckily having old clothes on "Hap" was not hurt. Coach Guthrie feels much better after this work out while the manager is satisfied for once.

SCHOOL VISITORS

Kathryn and Faye Puckett '27 and '28, and Evan Phillips '29 were visitors at Circleville high school Thursday afternoon.

Faye and Kathryn were both basket ball stars. They will soon return to Miami university, Miami, O.

Betty Cooper Is Star Of Fashion Showing At Grand

Beautiful costumes, excellent dancing and youth, all contrived at the J. C. Penney style show, Friday at the Grand theatre, to make an evening extraordinary. Circleville patrons realize the privilege of seeing Betty Cooper in her acrobatic dance numbers, and each time she favors her home town audience with an appearance, the theatre is filled and there are always as many waiting on the outside.

Billie Leonard, Columbus personality girl, gave the display program a steady start with her song and dance acts. Her encore was "Do Sompin'."

The stage performance at the theatre started with the playing of Ohio State's "Fight the Team," and then Circleville's "Red and Black," as the high school football team trooped in the front door, and up on the stage. They were followed by a number of girls in sports attire, who appeared to be going to the football game. There were several enthusiastic yells and the team left the stage after a signal had been given. Paul Wallace and Dudley Mills were the cheer leaders.

A showing of smart coats for women and a number for children, followed. Then came Billie Leonard who was followed by Betty Cooper and her Kiddie Revue. None of the dancers were very large, but Betty was the tiniest. Her costumes were new and she had several new dances. A new adagio number with Junior Ott in which she executed some difficult front splits, and many acrobatic falls, was especially popular with the audience. The child is extremely clever, and in later years, if she chooses a stage career, the home folks will be saying "I knew her when—etc. etc. The Russian dance, although not new, is still astounding, and the Russian Ballet, and all the regulation Russian whirl wind steps were performed like a veteran. Another new number, was the eccentric doll toe dance. Betty made a beautiful doll with bobbing curls and happy smile.

Another Circleville dancer appeared on the program. She was Mary, Margaret Fohl, a new pupil of Eddie Powell, who looked very lovely and danced exceeding well, for a pupil who has studied less than a year.

The "Dance of the Paper Dolls" was Elsie Baird's act in a dazzling white suit and beret. The dainty and graceful toe dancer in white was Margaret Rockhold, also of Columbus, and all pupils of Eddie Powell, who is Betty's instructor. The children in the revue were all his pupils.

The style show proper started by Miss Alice Ada May, in a black satin dress with long skirt, calling the J. C. Penney Store on the telephone. The conversation that followed described the different costumes, worn by some of Circleville's most beautiful girls. There were sport dresses, and coats, street dresses, evening creations, and many beautiful coats. A good variety of styles and sizes were represented, showing the trend of the skirt lengths, the flattering fur arrangements in the coats, many of which were flaired.

The part that sports coats will play this winter was shown by the smart appearance they give to especially the college girls. There were a number of strangers behind the scenes, who had accompanied the children dancers, and they all thought that the models for the style show were girls that had been imported for the event.

The girls taking part in the style show were Misses Alice Ada May, Evelyn Adkins, Peggy Courtright, Margie Hunsicker, Mary May Haswell, Doris Peters, Ruth Holman, Helen Schier, Jinsy Mader, Jane Mader, Harriett Mason, Jeanne Crowe, Helen Hitler, Marian Hitler, Lucile Rooney, Marian Hitchcock, Hilda Thomas, Jean Littleton, Anne Vlerehome, Matilda Davis, Helen Ruth Mosley, and Mrs. Vernon Hawk.

FAREWELL MEETING FOR REV. PETERS

Remembering that the Rev. B. C. Peters was leaving Circleville only for a larger parish and an advancement in his work, the group of members of the United Brethren church who gathered Friday night at the Parish house, succeeded in having a pleasant social time in spite of the gloom they felt at his leaving. The function was given in his honor and for his wife who had also achieved a great deal during her brief residence in Circleville.

The community house was filled with members of the church and their friends. The program of the evening consisted of short talks by J. R. Kirkpatrick, George Goddard, J. E. Millions, George Martin, T. F. Leffler, M. C. Kirkwood, W. S. Baker and James Trimmer. E. S. Neuding, treasurer and trustee of the church acted as spokesman, who called on these speakers, and who made the introductory remarks. Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. M. C. Kirkwood and Mrs. Margaret Smith also said a few words.

The Rev. Peters responded and spoke again when he was presented with a purse of $30, a gift from those present. Mrs. Peters, who worked faithfully with the young people of the church and especially with the Otterbein guild, was presented with a lemonade set from that organization. Lucile Kirkwood made the presentation speech, to which Mrs. Peters graciously responded. The Rev. M. R. White of this city also spoke briefly.

At an appointed hour a light lunch was served to the guests, by the Ladies Aid of the church.

The best wishes of the congregation will go with Rev. Peters and his family to their new location at Logan, O.

EVERYONE ENJOYS COUNTRY CLUB PARTY

It was a jolly evening Friday at the Country club when 48 members gathered at the club house for a 500 card party. Twelve tables had been set up on the porch, where the swinging lanterns, and late summer flowers of every description made a typical country club social scene. The different colors of the asters, snapdragons, zinnias, marigolds were carefully arranged and intermingled with ageratum, in large baskets, and placed about the porch effectively.

Five rounds of 500 were played, before R. R. Bales and George Foreman gathered up the highest scores. When these were compared it was discovered that three players had scores of 1710. These were Bryce Briggs, H. M. Crites and Miss Adeline Weldon. Mrs. Meeker Terwilliger, had the highest score of 1950 and received the ladies prize and Miss Weldon won the second. Mr. Crites and Mrs. Briggs drew for first and second men's prizes.

Among the Circleville guests were Mrs. Harriett Weldon of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Amnden of Holyoke, Mass.

Mrs. Glenn Nickerson headed the committee for the affair and others on the committee and assisting were Mrs. Germain Joseph, Mrs. George Foreman, Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Mrs. R. R. Bales, Miss Sally Caldwell and Miss Fanny and Miss Helen Joseph.

At this party Friday night white slip covers for the camp chairs were used for the first time. They were given to the club by Mrs. Harriett Weldon.

A part of the success of the party was due to the good food served after the game. This course consisted of pimento and nutbread sandwiches, tomatoes stuffed with chicken salad and coffee.

DINNER BRIDGE ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Harry D. Jackson will entertain Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock at her home on N. Scioto-st. The affair will be a dinner followed by bridge.

VISITS PARENTS IN TARTLTON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rittenour and family, Mrs. Lee Merriweather and son, all of Montgomery, A.

and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Anderson and daughter of Marysville, spent their vacations with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Irwin and daughter, Maxine, in Tartaion.

AMANDA GIRL IS MARRIED

Miss Edith Francile Hedge of near Amanda became the bride of Mr. Frank Tidd of Walnut Park, California, Wednesday afternoon at half after two o'clock with Rev. E. B. White officiating at the impressive single ring ceremony.

The wedding took place at the United Brethren parsonage in the presence of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hedges of near Amanda.

Mr. Tidd, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tidd of Walnut Park, California, will take his bride to California, where they will make their home.
